

For Joesendra, this is only her second fashion week showing, following her presentation at a Fashion World on this January. It was meant to be about getting back out there and doing it on its own over Street Market in New York and London, as well as IT Hong Kong, approached her about orders.